Subject:	Re: Evernote scansnap

It's hard to say. It just stores pictures on your Evernote, so I guess
(A) On the iPad itself you can probably expect to save ~1,000 things (business cards, letters, etc)
(B) But if you go over 1,000 (and in general), it'll be okay, because it will be stored on Evernote and you can access it whenever you have WiFi, with common/recent items already on the device.

I haven't tried it, it just looks cool. They're a good company.

I miss everyone as well and sorry I haven't had a chance to tell many stories. Lots of fun here, Met Mark Zuckerberg (zuck), we are treated as very high-level. very exciting.

Best,
Nimrod
